About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

THISSA AND THATTA: I've gained a lot of respect for Liberace, the television pianist, this week.

After I got over the original shock the first couple of times I ever heard of him, I have enjoyed his programs since.

But I have new respect for him now.

Last Wednesday night he was playing when the big storm came up. The lightning flashed, the thunder roared, the hail beat down, the wind blew hard, the rains drove against the windows.

It was enough to make the average person feel a little uncomfortable.

But did it daunt Liberace?

I should say not! Despite the wildness of the elements the 33-year-old virtuoso of the candelabra shrouded nary an emotion of fear or apprehension or uneasiness. He kept on playing, that some sweet smile on his face, unbothered by the storm outside. He went through the most difficult compositions and I doubt if any of us could have done better.

Yep, I've got a lot of respect for the charmer of the airways. We sure don't let a storm get him down.

I was looking over the new Presbyterian church a couple of days ago and noticed that the architect, Gale Henderson, did not put a steeple with a bell in it in the plans. So I nominate him for the No-Bell prize for church architecture.

It was so pretty out the other morning that I decided to go up and look over the area where Lake Harrisburg will be constructed. Funny, in spite of all the words this writer had put together about Lake Harrisburg, I'd never been up there.

You just go up Route 34 past Raleigh and when you come to the first gravel road that turns north off the highway after you pass Cecil Sullivan's house, you take it. In short order, you'll find your self right up in the lake area.

One thing I did notice was that lumber is being taken out of the area that the city is buying. I didn't know whether this was according to Hoyle or not, so I did a little questioning when I returned to town.

One water board member told me that when options were secured, a half dozen asked about taking timber off and they were told it'd be okay.

Then I asked about whether the timber taken would be on area that would be covered with water. One person close to the picture said that it would be. Another said that there's timber being cut that would be on the shoreline and that all a person has to do to know that is to make a trip up there.

As I said, I made a trip up there but didn't know enough about the picture to know what will be shoreline and what will be lake. All I know is that there's some timber being cut.

Rubirosa Refuses

To Pose with Zsa Zsa

PARIS — Zsa Zsa Gabor tried to pose with Porfirio Rubirosa for photographers at a Left Bank night club early today but the Dominican playboy told her: "Get out. I don't need you."

The blonde Hungarian beauty wept, turned away and left in a taxi.

Rubirosa, now separated from dime store Barbara Hutton entered the swank Montparnasse Club, a Left Bank hideout of Parisian high society, shortly before Miss Gabor appeared.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of Harrisburg, rebuilt following a fire in January, 1953, will be used for regular worship services tomorrow, Palm Sunday. Above is the chapel, built at the east side of the main auditorium, which will seat approximately 40 persons. Center is the altar, at left the pulpit and at right the baptismal font. In the rear is a Hammond electric organ. The chapel will be open at all times for those wishing to meditate and pray and will also be available for private family services, for small weddings, other small worship services and midweek prayer service. First Services to Be Held Sunday In New Presbyterian Church

Presbyterians of Harrisburg, without a church home since fire destroyed their beautiful structure 15 months ago, will hold their first services in the newly-constructed edifice tomorrow, on Palm Sunday.

The new building is more beautiful than ever, and is more conveniently arranged. Most pronounced differences are the fact that the chancel is in the rear of the building instead of the front, as was the case previously; the two spires have been shortened; and

Mitchell Reports Decrease in Jobless Claims

WASHINGTON — Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell says that a decrease of 80,000 claiming unemployment compensation marks the "first break" in a five-month rise in the number of jobless.

But there still were 2,133,000 claiming jobless insurance — the highest for the last full week of March in any year since World War II. The figure compared with 2,191,000 a year ago and 1,777,204 for that week in 1952.

The Labor Department also reported Friday that the number of persons filing initial claims for unemployment compensation last week rose by 46,100 to 339,000. But he said this gain resulted largely from "administrative factors" rather than new unemployment.

Only about 36,000,000 of the nation's 60,000,000 employed are covered by jobless insurance. The unemployment compensation claims are considered an important indicator in unemployment trends, particularly in industry.

Retail Sales Off
The Agriculture Department estimated 7,278,000 were working on farms in the last week of this March. This was about 1,000,000 higher than a month earlier but about 2 per cent lower than a year ago.

The Commerce Department's overall labor force report recently showed that unemployment in the second week of March rose 3,700,000, a gain of 54,000 as against a month earlier.

On another economic front, the Commerce Department reported that March retail sales totaled $13,300,000,000, 5 per cent less than a year ago. This was a $1,200,000,000 gain over February but was slightly less than the usual increase.

After adjustment for seasonal factors, there was a 2 per cent drop.

HTHS Choir to Sing 'Seven Last Words of Christ'

The Harrisburg Township high school choir, under the direction of John L. Schork, will present again this year the musical setting of "The Seven Last Words" spoken by Christ during His crucifixion on the cross.

Soloists will be Bill Williams, Mrs. Larry Barnhill and Mrs. Pat Sullivan. The organist will be Mr. Harold Parker.

The sacred music, composed by Dubois, will be presented at Good Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Methodist church in Harrisburg, and on Easter Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Baptist church in Carrier Mills.

Mr. Schork, choir director, stated that it was "one affair that the choir enjoyed singing most and looked forward to with enthusiasm."

The "Seven Last Words" are: Father forgive them; for they know not what they do; Woman behold thy son; Son behold thy mother; I thirst; Today shalt thou be with me in paradise; My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me; Father into thy hands I commend my spirit; and it is finished.

This will be the sixth year for the presentation.

Two Young Men Arrested After Automobile Chases

City police engaged in two auto chases last night that resulted in the arrest of two young men who were arraigned for reckless driving and other charges.

Arrested were Norman Wilkins, formerly of Harrisburg, and Glen Vangamper. Wilkins pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving, running a stop sign and carrying a concealed weapon and was fined a total of $140.80. Vangamper, from Eldorado, was fined a total of $135.40 on charges of reckless driving and running three stops.

City Policemen Pat Atkinson and John Dunn engaged in both chases. About 6:05 p. m., they said, they saw Wilkins headed west on Poplar street at an estimated 60 miles per hour, and that he hit an estimated 70 MPH on Granger, going through the stop sign at Sloan and Granger at the high speed.

When he was arrested, police said, he had a loaded automatic in the car.

Vangamper, police said, was speeding and ran through three stop signs around 8:20 p. m., finally stopping when he turned so fast off Granger onto O'Garra street that he hit a curb and bent a tie-rod.

Police also reported that some auto had ran up onto the lawn and crashed into the iron fence at the Wasson property at West Poplar and Webster, damaging the fence, but that there was no trace of the car when they got there.

Brownell Asks New Legislation Against Reds

Says Administration Is Striking at Party At Every Opportunity

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Friday night called for new "constitutional weapons" to strike down the Communist party in this country by "legal, orderly processes."

Brownell said the administration is striking at the Reds "at every opportunity" but needs the additional legislation "to complete the task of destroying this threat to our nation's safety."

His nationwide radio-television address was a follow up to President Eisenhower's Monday night speech warning against hysteria about Communism and other problems facing the nation.

He said he agreed with Mr. Eisenhower that "although we must be constantly alert to the danger of Communist infiltration, we should not have exaggerated fears of the danger."

His proposal for additional legislation to deal with Communist threats to unions and industry drew support from some congressional Republicans. But union officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude until they learn more details of Brownell's plan.

Brownell warned that the "threat of Communism is a very real one" and said the Eisenhower administration is "determined to destroy the effectiveness of the Communist movement in this country."

To Expand Proposals
His legislative program to accomplish this includes proposals now pending in Congress to make new evidence admissible in court trials involving the national security and to grant immunity to balking witnesses who testify before congressional hearings and grand juries.

Brownell also made these new legislative recommendations:

1. Allow an employer to fire from defense plants any worker whose record showed he is likely to engage in sabotage or espionage. Under present law, he said, such firings are possible only if the worker is working on a classified defense contract.

2. Eliminate Communist control of labor unions or industrial organizations in vital sections of the national economy. Under his proposal, the Subversive Activities Control Board would decide what unions are Communist-dominated and in a position to hurt the national security. Should the board make such a finding, members of the union would be forbidden to pay dues or perform services for the union or to work in defense plants.

Brownell is expected to expand upon his legislative proposals in detail when he appears Monday before a House judiciary subcommittee considering legislation to outlaw the party. Some of his top aides, including FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, are skeptical of these "outlaw the party" moves.

Lodge Suggests 5-Power Study of Nehru Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States today considered with "respectful attention" India's proposal for a "standstill" agreement on atomic and hydrogen weapons.

But Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., suggested late Friday to the United Nations Disarmament Commission that the proposal should be turned over to the Big Four powers and Canada for study in secret.

The proposal was put forward by Premier Jawaharlal Nehru in New Delhi last week and submitted to the 12-nation disarmament commission on Thursday for "immediate consideration."

It called for: A "standstill" on hydrogen tests while the U.N. seeks means to outlaw thermonuclear weapons; full publicity by the atomic powers on the devastating effects of hydrogen explosions; active steps by non-atomic powers to prevent further experiments; and "immediate and continuing" consideration of the plan by the U.N.

The disarmament commission, holding its first meeting of the hydrogen age Friday, did nothing about the Nehru plan.

It's Your Duty to Vote At Primary Tuesday

(An Editorial)

Tuesday, April 13 is the date of the primary election in Illinois.

Republicans and Democrats on that day will name their candidates in the general election for U. S. Senator, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Congress, State Senator, Representatives, County Judge, County Clerk, County Treasurer, Sheriff and County Superintendent of Schools.

In addition they will elect State Central Committeemen, Senatorial Committeemen, Precinct Committeemen as governing officers in the parties, and will elect members of the County Board of School Trustees.

In some instances there are no contests for the nominations, but on both the Democratic and Republican ticket there are contests for some offices.

There has not been as much interest in the contests in this area as in some years, but the primary is nevertheless important. It is the duty and the responsibility of every eligible voter to go to the polls.

Half of the nominees will be elected in the general election in November. If competent men are nominated on both sides, there can be no incompetent men elected to office. It has been shown time and again that when a large number of voters go to the polls, the results are favorable.

If you don't go to the polls Tuesday, you have no right, after the general election, to cry that "crooked politicians run everything."

Politics can be a high calling or a low. The voters decide what type of politicians have authority in our government.

Saline County Oil Report: Drilling Operations In Saline County

There are three interesting wildcat drilling in the county this week, anyone of which could open a new oil field in Saline county.

There are 22 active drilling operations this week, all in the northern part of the county.

Just west of Eldorado, John Stelle and associates are drilling below 2975 by Byron Rucker's rotary tools on their No. 1 John J. Jones, NE NE SW, 20-8s-7e with no showing of commercial oil in the hole yet. McClosky line is expected about 3050.

Red Commandos Blow Up Part of French Airstrip

HANOI, Indochina — Communist Indochinese commandos sneaked through Dien Bien Phu's battered ramparts today and blew up part of the airstrip, linking the fortress with the outside world.

The Red infiltrators crawled through defenses during the moonless night with crudely-fashioned torpedoes—made by packing hollow bamboo poles with explosives.

In the black of night they crammed the bombs under steel matting that paved the airstrip runway and blasted the vital airstrip.

Other Communist sneak forces tried to seize a southern strongpoint in the shell-pocked defense lines that have held against five weeks of "human wave" assault.

The commando attack, along with Red artillery barrages, was considered part of Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's preparation for his next, and possibly final, assault on the fortress.

French military authorities predicted Vo would make the big attack within 36 hours.

The officials said Vo, who has lost 22,000 men in his four futile attempts to wrest the strategic fortress from its "Fighting Fool" defenders, will receive enough reinforcements by Sunday at the latest.

More than 20,000 Red Indochinese rebels have been moving down a highway leading from replacement depots near the border of Communist China to the hills overlooking the Dien Bien Phu basin.

Talented Cast Presents HTHS Senior Class Play

The HTHS Senior class play, "Guest in the House," was presented to a fairly large crowd last night at Bonnell gym which was well pleased with the performance by the talented cast.

The part of the invalid guest was capably played by June Blackard, who kept the Proctor home torn up by her demands for attention until her fear of birds finally overcame her with a fatal heart attack.

The well-trained cast included Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, played by Frank Chase and Myra Burnam; their daughter, Fredi Christman; Aunt Martha, Marjorie Zimmer; Miriam Blake, a model, Mary Anne Humm; the maid, Mollie Jean Brinkley; the minister, David Patterson; the butler, Kenneth Berry; Dan Proctor, Harry Boyd; two visitors, Anne Funkhouser and John Lee; the reporter, Betty Butler, and the photographer, John Wiley.

Mrs. Lolo Eddy, director of the play, was presented a gift from the cast by Myra Burnam preceding the play.

The orchestra, directed by Marshall Cotran, provided music before the play and during the intermissions music was provided by Mona Wickham at the organ, Mary Anne Humm at the marimba, and Bill Brantley at the drums.

Collect Ton of Clothing at HTHS

Thirty-one bags of approximately one ton of used clothing, shoes, etc., were collected by the Hi-Tri sponsored drive in connection with the statewide "Save-the-Children Bundle Week." It was announced Friday at the Harrisburg Township high school.

The articles collected were to be shipped today to Knoxville, Tenn., the collection center for this drive. From there the clothing will be sent to Korea, some of the European countries, the Middle East and to some of the American Indian tribes.

Mrs. Herman Dunn and Miss Alva Davis, sponsors of the Hi-Tri drive, were gratified with the results of the drive.

Confers with Eisenhower On United Front

Sec'y Leaves Tonight For Conferences In Paris and London

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today after a conference with President Eisenhower that the free nations must unite to assure that the forthcoming Geneva conference "will not lead to a loss of freedom in Southeast Asia."

Dulles talked with the President before leaving tonight for conferences in London and Paris next week to press his campaign for a "united front to resist Communist aggression in Southeast Asia."

In a formal statement, Dulles said: "This government believes that if all the free people who are threatened unite against the threat then the threat can be ended."

Dulles emphasized that his mission to Europe to line up reluctant British and French support for his united action plan in Southeast Asia is "a mission of peace through strength."

Presses for Declaration
Dulles said the need now is for the United States, Britain and France to join their strength "and add the strength of others to assure that the conference (at Geneva) will not lead to a loss of freedom in Southeast Asia."

Dulles will press the British and French to issue, in cooperation with other nations, a firm declaration that Indochina and Southeast Asia will not fall prey to Communist aggression.

Dulles said the threat to Indochina is "not a limited one." He said it is of vital interest to many nations in Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific area, including the Philippines, Australia, and New Zealand, with whom the United States has security treaties.

Dulles said the Communist bloc, with its vast resources, "can win success by overwhelming one by one small bits of freedom."

"But it is different if we unite," he said. "Our purpose is not to extend the fighting, but to end the fighting."

British and French Balk
"Our purpose is not to prevent a peaceful settlement at the forthcoming Geneva conference, but to create the unity of free wills needed to assure a peaceful settlement which will in fact preserve the vital interests of us all."

"Unity of purpose calls for a full understanding. It seemed that this understanding would be promoted if I would personally go to London to talk to the British government and go to Paris to talk to the French government so that there could be a more satisfactory exchange of views than is possible by the exchange of cabled messages," Dulles said.

The British and French governments have balked at going along with Dulles' plans to issue a united front against Communism in advance of the Geneva conference. They have indicated they would prefer to wait until after the conference, which begins April 26.

Dulles said he is taking his emergency trip to talk with the British and French governments "about some of the real problems involved in creating the obviously desirable united front to resist Communist aggression in Southeast Asia."

Dulles' mission assumed additional importance in the face of rising Republican sentiment in the Senate to postpone action on the new foreign aid act long as the Europeans hold back on Southeast Asian strategy.

To keep barn brooms in better condition, soak brooms in a detergent solution occasionally, advises Capper's Farmer. This "bath" loosens dirt that clings to the bristles ends, then brooms are easier to use.

MOUNTED PLOWS are the trend
Here's the best in the business — Allis-Chalmers mounted plows, "built on the square" with SNAP-COUPLER. Rugged, tough, and efficient, these plows are built of steel that absorbs shock like truck springs. They provide extra ground clearance.

Try one. Back a CA, WD, or WD-45 Tractor into the model of Allis-Chalmers mounted plows which fits your needs. Drop it into the ground. See the difference that a close-coupled, free-swinging mounted plow makes. And if the going is tough, watch TRACTION BOOSTER increase your pull power.

Shortage of Subsoil Moisture is Reported in Most of Illinois Areas

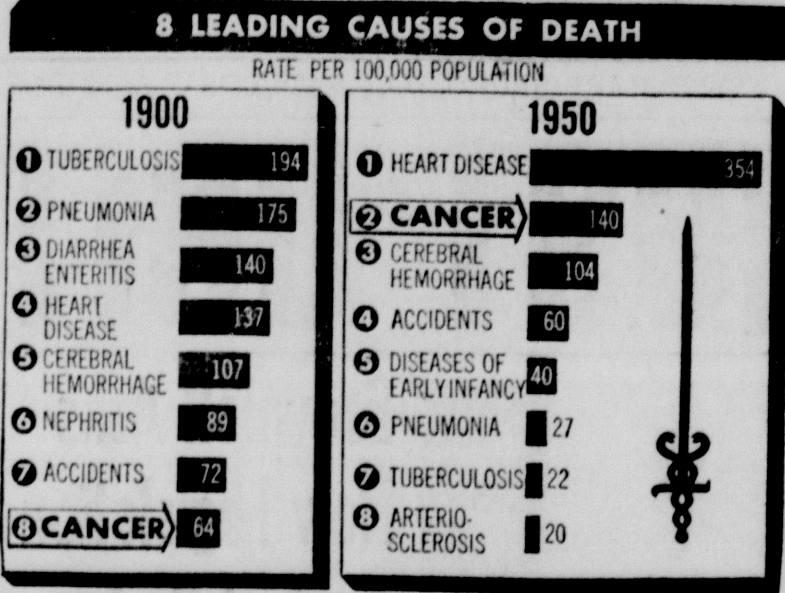

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The State Crop Reporting Service, in its first weekly weather and crop bulletin, today said 64 per cent of its correspondents reported a shortage of subsoil moisture.
The report was optimistic on present conditions for a good crop year but the threat of continued drought over the southern part of the state dampened hopes for a bumper year.
"Surface moisture is sufficient to get spring growth started," the crop service said, "but in all except the northern counties subsoil moisture is the shortest in many years."
In addition to the 64 per cent of correspondents reporting shortage of moisture, 33 per cent said moisture supplies were ample and 3 per cent said there was surplus moisture.
This compared to the 1953 report in which 11 per cent reported a shortage, 74 per cent said ample moisture was in the ground, with 15 per cent reporting surpluses.
The dry weather resulted in a record per cent of plowing for this time of year and a near record sowing of oats, the service reported.
Sixty per cent of plowing for corn and soybeans has been completed in the state, a record for April 1. Fifty-five per cent of the

Wheat Farmers Should Have Their Acreage Inspected

All farmers who are producing wheat on farms for which wheat allotments were not established should make certain that their acreages have been inspected by an ASC reporter. Raymond Alvey, chairman of the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, emphasized this need in a statement issued today.
"Under the wheat marketing quota program," he said, "farmers desiring to sell wheat must have a marketing quota card. In order to issue these cards an official check of performance must be made of the wheat acreage. We have tried to inspect all wheat farms in the county, but some cases may have been overlooked.
"If there are any such cases, farmers may still obtain an inspection by reporting such fact to our office at city hall, Harrisburg. Arrangements will then be made to have a reporter check the acreage. This information will not only provide the basis for making determinations relative to marketing cards, but will also provide the basis for advising farmers of their option of utilizing excess acres for green manure, pasture, hay or silage."

Studies show that nearly three-fourths of the plant nutrients in roughage fed to livestock are available for return to the soil in barnyard manure. Save every bit of it for your farm land.

Using covered feed lots and covered storage places are among the best ways to preserve all the nutrients in barnyard manure until it is spread on the fields.

A ton of average barnyard manure contains approximately 500 pounds of dry organic matter, 10 pounds of nitrogen, five pounds of phosphorus and 10 pounds of potash. This is the equivalent of 100 pounds of 10-5-10 commercial fertilizer. In order to balance the plant food in manure, 50 pounds of superphosphate should be added to each ton of manure.

Manure gives good results on fields which are to be planted on corn because this crop shows better response to manure than any of the other crops commonly grown in a rotation plan.

With transplanting time at hand for the gardeners the suggestion comes that plants will receive a real send-off by applying starter solutions of high analysis soluble fertilizer. Dip the plant roots in the solution and pour some in the hole as the plants are being set in the field or garden. In checking the fertilizer analysis make sure that the phosphorus content is high because this is the element the newly transplanted plants need to have readily available for use. A soluble fertilizer having an analysis something like 10-52-17 is desirable. Use according to directions on the container.

With gardening comes the problem of combating insect pests that plague the gardener's crops. The best kind of sprayer or duster for home garden use is one which gets the insecticide on the under side of the plant leaves.

Gardeners planning ahead toward planting vegetables that do not tolerate freezing temperatures might be interested in knowing that the average date of the last killing frosts in southern Illinois comes somewhere between April 10 and 20. There, of course, are plenty of exceptions to the rule.

A few quick remarks about farm machinery:
Make it a rule to build a habit of caution and alertness around the farm. This is the best of accident preventers.

An hour-meter on the tractor is a good investment. It is the only accurate way to keep account of the time between oil and filter changes. Always use high quality oil, too, because it is the cheapest in the long run. Low-priced oil quite likely will result in earlier and more frequent overhauls and prove the most expensive after all.

By this time you should have your major machinery and building repairs finished for this season. When there is corn to plant or the hay is down in the field the farmer's time is worth a lot more than it is in the winter, and he can not afford to take care of machinery troubles then that might have been avoided by advance planning, work, and proper care.

1953 Net Income of Farmers Totaled $12.5 Billion

Although net farm incomes for 1953 declined 7 per cent from the previous year, farmers still realized a net income of $12,500,000,000, according to an agricultural summary prepared for the 1954 Yearbook of the American Peoples Encyclopedia.

At the same time the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that farmland values in the country declined 6 per cent between November, 1952, and November, 1953.

Purchases of farm operating items such as seed, feed and fertilizer continued at a normal rate during 1953, the article will state. Less labor was hired, farm construction declined, and purchases of farm machinery and equipment were reduced. The major effect of lower incomes was in reduced capital expenditures.

New stockpiles of agricultural products were concentrated largely in wheat, cotton, corn and dairy produce, but in a larger list, including the meat and poultry groups of commodities, no accumulation took place.

Cotton grew wild in many of the world's nations at one time and the Greeks called it "tree wool."

IAA to Help Promote Sale of Dairy Products

A campaign to promote the sale of dairy products in downstate Illinois will be sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association. This was announced today by Charles B. Shuman, IAA president.

Object of the campaign, Shuman said, will be to increase the consumption of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.
"Everyone knows there is a surplus of most dairy products," the IAA president said. "And the recent drop in dairy price support has, in some instances, brought about lower prices for dairy products at retail levels. Our goal will be to call attention of consumers to these factors and try to encourage them to eat more of these products."

"Although the government had in storage about 345 million pounds of butter, 361 million pounds of cheese and 593 million pounds of non-fat dry milk on hand, as of March 30, this surplus represents only 6 per cent of the total milk production during the last year," Shuman said.

"So it is possible that we can do something about this problem. It's been estimated that if every person in the United States would take one more glass of milk per day, there wouldn't be any more surplus accumulation."
The decision to sponsor such a dairy products sales campaign is based on a recent action by the IAA board of directors, Shuman said. The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization. The county Farm Bureau marketing committees will be one of the chief groups to help carry out this campaign, according to Shuman.

"We feel such a campaign will be of vital interest to consumers, dairy farmers and the dairy industry," the IAA president said. "All segments of the dairy industry—retail groups, dairy associations, dairy companies and others—will be invited to a meeting in the IAA offices April 19 to launch the drive."

Here are some of the goals at which the IAA president said such a project will be aimed:

- (1) To introduce milk service into all downstate schools;
- (2) To bring milk service into local factories;

Seven Guides to Disease Prevention

Why not nip diseases of your farm animals in the bud this spring?

Here are a few reminders from the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine that should help you prevent disease in your herds this summer:

1. Sterilize all equipment you use in docking, castrating and de-horning.
2. Clean your barnyard; get rid of piles of refuse, manure and strawstacks.
3. Drain or fence off low spots in your barnyard, lots and pastures so that your animals won't pick up disease germs from stagnant pools and mud.
4. Move your young animals on to fresh, clean ground as soon as possible.
5. Clean and disinfect your buildings and pens as soon as the animals are out.
6. Disinfect any animal wounds.
7. Call your veterinarian if any of your animals show symptoms of sickness.

Mixup Causes Delay in Hearings Of McCarthy Row

WASHINGTON — A mixup in the United States and Texas independence days has caused another delay in the start of public hearings on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's row with the Army.

The Senate Investigating Subcommittee voted Friday to postpone the much-delayed hearings one more day, to April 22.

That will permit McCarthy (R-Wis.) to keep a speaking date April 21 at Texas' San Jacinto battlefield near Houston where Gen. Sam Houston and a handful of Texans routed Santa Anna and the Mexican army in 1836 to win Texas independence.

Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) took the blame for the mix-up. He said McCarthy told him he was "speaking down in Texas on independence day."

Mundt thought he meant July 4.

Parched Soil, Dust May Halt Wheat Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said today that parched soil and smothering dust may halt an anticipated buildup of wheat surpluses.

Morse said it was too early to tell if this year's wheat crop will be short enough to remove some of the previous years' surplus stocks from storage. But he said a department report dropping this year's anticipated yield by 72 million bushels indicates there will be no addition to the surplus holdings if crop and demand conditions remain unchanged.

He added that unusually low soil moisture conditions in some corn belt areas are being watched closely. If these "usually reliable" areas don't get some rain, he said, corn and soybean crops may be cut also.

Friday's crop report showed "sharp deterioration" in winter wheat prospects in the Western and Southern Great Plains. Wheat in fields which have had less than half of normal rainfall the past several months and which have taken already a four-year drought beating is "barely holding on or dying slowly from drought," the report said.

The Crop Reporting Board estimated the 1954 winter wheat crop would total 677,981,000 bushels, down 23 per cent from last year and 19 per cent below normal. Except for the flood-damaged 1951 crop of 645 million bushels, it would be the smallest since 1941.

First Rains Since Last August Hit Rio Grande Valley

EDINBURG, Tex. (U.P.)—Residents of the lower Rio Grande Valley waded happily today in the mud left by downpours ranging from 6 to 12 inches, the first "good" rain received since last August.

The rains caused floods, forcing evacuation of more than 100 persons, and there were boats in the streets of Pharr Friday. A small tornado ripped the roof off a grocery warehouse at Donna, and one man was killed when the rains caused a short circuit in a trailer. Four companies of the Texas National Guard were called out to help evacuate persons in the flooded areas and to patrol deserted areas. Farm sources said the rains had done far more good than harm, as water stood on the cotton and truck vegetable fields. Some farmers put men at work pumping off the excess water, where two days ago they had been pumping it on. The rains, which started falling early Friday morning, were so heavy they put a stop to rising prices of new crop cotton futures on the New York and New Orleans exchanges.

The lower Rio Grande Valley is an important cotton producing region, but the lint crop's prospects had been dim because of the lack of rainfall and a shortage of irrigation water in the Rio Grande.

Amateur Billy Jo Patten Leads Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U.P.)—Amateur Billy Jo Patten pinched himself today and found he was leading the formidable Ben Hogan by a stroke at the halfway point of the 18th Masters golf tournament.

"It's sort of like a dream," said the 33-year-old Morganton, N. C., lumberman who puts the wood to the ball as it has seldom been seen on the Augusta National course.

"Everything seems to be going my way," Patten added, "I have a feeling I'm lucky."

His luck, if that's what it was, came after he had bogeyed the last two holes Friday to finish with a 74 and a par 144 for 36 holes. Then Hogan, with a chance to go a stroke ahead with pars, faltered on the same two holes to remain a stroke back with 73 and 145.

Patton thus shattered precedent on two points in the 18th playing of the high-test tournament founded by Bobby Jones. He is the first amateur to hold the lead through two rounds, and it was the first time a par score stood up that far for the lead.

But the issue was far from settled. Hogan, looking grim after he came in from a round played on a sudden, chilly course, was obviously the one breathing down the back of Patten's neck.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Bob Rosburg of Chicago stood only a stroke farther back at 146. Two-time Masters champion Sam Snead, who zipped through the back nine Friday in 34 for a 73, and Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., had 147's.

Ridgway Trips Galatia, 11-3

Ridgway's diamond crew captured its second game in three outings this past week, tripping Galatia's invading Bearcats, 11-3, yesterday afternoon.

Don Hise hurled the entire route for the victors and limited Galatia to three hits. Galatia scored once in each of the second, third and fourth innings.

The Eagles pounded out six runs in the sixth frame with Catcher Earter's triple with two mates aboard accounting for two of the scores. Ridgway scored once in the first, added another in the second and then tallied three in the fourth, prior to their big inning.

Imboden and Orto shared the mound chores for the Bearcats, giving up seven hits. Galatia made four errors in fielding.

Next Tuesday, Ridgway will be host to Shawneetown's baseball nine.

Spahn, Pafko Lead Braves To 3-1 Win Over Red Sox; Dodgers Beat Yanks, 8-2

By United Press

Southpaw Warren Spahn and veteran outfielder Andy Pafko were held chiefly responsible today for a perceptible quickening of Milwaukee's throbbing pennant pulse.

On view before Milwaukee's home town fans for the first time this year, Spahn and Pafko teamed up brilliantly Friday to earn the Braves a 3-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Spahn, oblivious to the brisk 46-degree temperature that kept the County Stadium crowd down to 6,077, went the full distance, allowing only seven scattered hits and striking out four. He held the Red Sox scoreless until the ninth when Jim Piersall doubled, took third on Jackie Jensen's single and came across on George Kell's sacrifice fly.

The 33-year-old Pafko put the Braves ahead when he hit the first ball pitched to him for a homer in the second inning. He also singled in the fourth and subsequently scored on Del Crandall's single. Bill Henry, who yielded all of the Braves' eight hits in the seven innings he worked, suffered the loss.

Dodgers Pound Reynolds

Like the Braves, the Dodgers also came home on a winning note as they pounded veteran Allie Reynolds of the Yankees for three homers and an 8-2 victory before 8,066 fans at Ebbets Field. It was Brooklyn's fourth conquest in six spring meetings with the world champions.

Jim Gilliam smashed two homers off Reynolds to account for three runs while Billy Cox hit another to provide two more.

Carl Erskine, who will pitch the regular season opener against the Giants Tuesday, hurled the first four innings for the Dodgers. He held the Yankees scoreless and was touched for two hits. Clem Labine and Jim Hughes mopped up.

Detroit, rolling up 19 hits — its biggest total of the spring — easily beat Cincinnati, 10-5, at Columbus, Ohio. Included among the hits collected off Joe Nuxhall, Rudy Minarcin and Fred Baczewski was Ray Boone's first homer of the exhibition season. Grady Hatton, Roy McMillan and Jim Greengrass each homered for the Redlegs as Ted Gray gained the victory.

Bishop's Attack On McCarthy Receives Praise, Criticism

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The Catholic Youth Organization said today that telegrams and telephone calls had poured in supporting Bishop Bernard J. Sheil's attack on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

However, there was no comment on Sheil's harsh-worded attack on McCarthy from Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, or from any other members of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Meanwhile the Chicago American Legion Naval Post No. 372 passed a resolution attacking Sheil's speech to the International Education Conference of the CIO United Auto Workers union Friday.

The resolution was offered by Phillip W. Collins, a member of the Chicago Transit Authority and a prominent Catholic layman. He said the resolution would be submitted to the First District of the state American Legion.

The CIO, a nationally-known organization founded by Sheil, did not divulge how many messengers it had received on the bishop's speech or who they were from.

However, a CIO spokesman said the responses were running "about 80-20" in Sheil's favor. Sheil's speech was particularly noteworthy because he was the first high Catholic prelate to denounce McCarthy. McCarthy also is a Catholic.

Cpl. Charles W. Riley, son of George Riley, Stonefort, was recently transferred to the Second Infantry division in Korea. Riley was a squad leader of the 45th Infantry division which is being returned to the U. S. He will finish his Korean tour of duty with the Second division, now training to maintain combat efficiency. Cpl. Riley entered the army in December 1952 and completed basic training at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Second Lt. John H. Middleton, whose wife, Shirley, lives at 1302 South Grand street, is now serving at the Army Forces Far East headquarters, Camp Zana, Japan. Located near Yokohama on the site of the former "West Point" of the Japanese Imperial army, the headquarters coordinates army operations in Korea, Japan and Okinawa. Lt. Middleton, son of Dent Middleton, Carrier Mills, is a liaison officer in the engineer section.

Golf Driving Range To Open Tonight

The Fairview Golf Driving Range, on the Dorris Heights road opposite the fairgrounds, will open tonight. Bill Cady, manager, announced today.

This range will be open from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. each day, he said, and suggested it as a place for the golfers who will use the new country club grounds can practice up on their drives.

Willie Pep is Barred from Ring

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Wondrous Willie Pep, whose nimble hands won him fame and fortune in the ring only to betray him at the dice table, was "counted out" today by the New York State Boxing Commission.

Pep's remarkable career seemed definitely ended when the commission ruled that he be barred from New York rings "for his own good and for the good of boxing." The Massachusetts commission immediately withdrew approval of Pep's scheduled bout with Bobby Courchesne of Chicopee, Mass., at Holyoke, Mass., next Monday and the National Boxing Association also was expected to "go along" with the New York ruling.

The move followed routine physical examinations after Pep's last fight — a second-round technical knockout at the hands of Lulu Perez in which the once-nimble Willie played the role of a leaden-footed "old man of the ring."

Willie wanted to leave 'em laughing—but that last fight was positively the worst of a great career. That career included 183 victories in 190 fights, the winning and losing of a couple of fortunes and a heart-warming comeback from a plane crash in 1946 which almost snuffed out Willie's life.

Thy KING Cometh

Amid joyous hosannas and waving of palm branches, He rode into the city of Jerusalem, past these same walls which are standing today.

Long ago in ancient Palestine, the prophet had heralded the coming of a king. But now few thought it more than the usual procession of some new earthly ruler. Yet no king ever came as He came. No king ever built such a kingdom.

This was the King of Heaven who rode into the hearts of men and built there a Kingdom of Love!

They crucified Him, but death could not stop His coming. He comes in every age to all who will believe. He comes to you.

Go to church this Palm Sunday, for "thy king cometh." Let the King of Heaven ride into your heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1)
For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and matterial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
What might seem to be a disproportionate part of the record of the life of Jesus in the Four Gospels is devoted to the brief period of the closing days. This period includes the Passover Last Supper in the Upper Room, the tragedy of Calvary and the triumph of the Resurrection.

There is, however, no disproportion. For these closing days were related to all that went before, and what they record is the climax of the life, ministry and sacrifice prophesied in the very days of Mary's rejoicing in her new-born Child.

"Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also" (Luke 2:35). For, with that prophetic word stands the grim reality (John 19:25). "Now there stood by the cross of Jesus His mother." Bethlehem and Calvary are one.

I had read that statement about Mary at the cross many times but without visualizing its actuality of love and suffering. Then, during the four years of World War I, I sensed something of its reality.

During that time I ministered to a Canadian congregation and looked Sunday after Sunday into the eyes of mothers whose sons were out in the mud and blood of France and Flanders.

I wonder with what measure of reality most of us think of the Cross of Christ. When we think of Jesus, and accord Him our love and devotion, do we think only of the gentle Jesus, the Christ who blessed the children and walked with His disciples through the fields?

Does our following end there?
Or do we follow all the way to the Upper Room and the Cross?
It is a challenge to us who lead comparatively easy and comfortable lives while many in our own time have to face the test of bitter persecution.

I have reacted against conceptions of the Atonement that represent God the Father as forgive-ing His children only by inflicting punishment on an innocent Son. Jesus reasoned from human fatherhood to divine Fatherhood (Matthew 7:9-11). The idea of punishment, I am sure, is not the clue to the Atonement.

Nevertheless, there is a great mystery embedded in suffering and tragedy. The writer in Hebrews 9:22 says that "without shedding of blood there is no remission (of sins)," though I refer the reader to the manner in which he relates the law of sacrifice in the Old Testament to the sacrifice of Christ in the New.

In the Upper Room, as Jesus offered the cup to the disciples, He said, "This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for the remission of sins."
A hymn in common use a generation or so ago was William Cowper's "There Is a Fountain Filled With Blood." Today, I believe, it is seldom, if ever, sung, and it is entirely omitted from recent hymn books.

Perhaps there is warrant for that, if one visualizes with reality a "fountain of blood."

But to me it has always seemed anomalous that the hymn should have fallen into disuse at the very time when thousands were pouring out their life blood for democracy, liberty and the good life of all those for whom they sacrificed.
